OUT STATEMENTBlames Agitation for Keeping
Alaskan Question Open.

GOES AFTER HIS OPPONENTS

Secretary of the Interior Assails
Those Who Have Charged Him
With Being an Opponent of Conservation and Blames Them for the Unsettled Condition of Affairs in Alaska.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Blaming the agitation which has been raised throughout the country since the withdrawal of all Alaskan coal lands in 1906 as the cause of keeping the whole question unsettled and also for the inaction of congress, Secretary of the Interior Ballinger made public a lengthy statement in the form of an interview, in the course of which he assails those who have charged him with being an opponent of conservation and blames them for the unsettled condition in Alaska.

The statement was brought out by the recent indictments in Washington against Alaska coal claimants, in which connection the secretary says that these "are but further steps in the effort which is being made by the government to clear up and settle this whole question."

Since the withdrawal order was made to enable congress to decide upon a definite policy of dealing with this resource, the secretary says, "there has been throughout the country much agitation regarding Alaska coal—an agitation a large part of which is based on false statements. Whatever has been the motive behind the agitation it has resulted in keeping the whole question unsettled and is largely blameable for the inaction of congress."

The secretary points out that there are two essentials for clearing up the situation, as follows:

"First—An early prosecution and disposition of the pending cases involving charges of fraud and conspiracy against existing claimants, and,

"Second—Congressional action definitely deciding the manner in which Alaskan coal may be acquired."

Interests the Beneficiaries.

As the Pacific coast is obliged to draw its goods from the Atlantic coast, the secretary says, the charge has arisen that the "interests" are the beneficiaries of the policy which prevents the opening up of large fuel deposits.

"There has been much talk," he continues, "of the 'interests' opposing that so-called conservation which makes for reservation rather than use, but as a matter of fact, the 'interests' naturally favor, rather than oppose, the reservation and non-use idea."

The secretary points out that Mexican coal can be delivered at San Francisco at $4 a ton, while a railroad in Alaska is compelled to pay $12 a ton. "To my mind, a continuation of the present situation is the direct antithesis of rational conservation," the secretary continues. "Consider that for each five tons of Atlantic seaboard coal transported to the Pacific coast one ton is used in transportation, or a total waste of 20 per cent, and you will see that existing methods do not conserve but destroy."

"From an economic point of view it is intolerable that this waste should continue, and that a large region should be handicapped in its legitimate development and the proper use of its resources by the failure of the government properly to settle the problems of how to use these resources. It is to be hoped that congress will determine early in the coming session the manner in which Alaska coal may be taken out and placed in the markets of the Pacific coast before those markets are absorbed by foreign importations."

HOLDS LAW DOES NOT APPLY

Court Decides Saloon Case Against Business School.

Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 7.—That the South Dakota legislature did not have business schools in mind when it passed the law forbidding the sale of intoxicants within 300 feet of a private or public school, is the substance of a ruling by Judge McNulty, handed down in the circuit court in regard to the petition of John Granger, proprietor of the Granger business college, for an injunction restraining Arthur Lorenson, George Woods, Honneger Brothers, Ladner Bros., J. Ringrose and Cease & Butler from selling intoxicating liquors in the proximity of his institution of commercial learning.

The judge held that the school was intentionally located, and said in such case the law in question did not apply. Granger had previously procured a temporary injunction in the Milbank circuit court. He will appeal to the supreme court, he says.

Burials in Coffins.

Burial in coffins in England was not usual until about 1700 or even later. While the right to make burial was not denied, it was questioned whether our forefathers could insist upon the privilege of being incased in "a big box, perhaps imperishable," and so laid in the earth. At Farnham about 1680 only fourteen out of fifty-five persons buried were buried in coffins.—Manchester Chronicle.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS CASE

St. Paul Man Dying of a Bullet Wound.

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Paul Kottenhoff is dying at Bethesda hospital from a bullet wound. His niece, Mrs. J. F. Beck, with whom he boarded at 663 East Third street, believes he is the victim of a highwayman. The police say he shot himself.

At times he partly regained consciousness and talked incoherently of a "holdup." In answer to questions he repeated the words, "hands up—hands up"—as if the idea were uppermost in his mind. He is thirty-two years old. He has been employed as a baker.

CANNON SERVING
HIS LAST TERMUncle Joe Will Not Again Be Elected Speaker.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Approximately 100 Republican candidates for congress this year are pledged to oppose Joseph G. Cannon for the speakership should their party remain in control of the house. About 138 Republican candidates have either announced that they are Cannon men or have refrained from expressing themselves on the subject. Only a handful of Republican candidates are classified as doubtful on the question of Cannonism.

While even Republican leaders familiar with the situation throughout the country concede that all signs favor the Democrats they insist that their party has a fighting chance. They scoff at the idea of the Democrats capturing the house by an overwhelming majority. They declare that the margin will be narrow whichever party is victorious.

Therefore, Republicans in discussing Tuesday's result figure somewhat on a victory. And if victory comes their way they will be face to face with the issue of Cannonism.

Serving His Last Term.

Practically all Republican leaders concede that Mr. Cannon is serving his last term as speaker. Those Republicans classified as progressives, who have bitterly opposed Mr. Cannon in this congress, now number approximately thirty. That this strength will be augmented in the battle of ballots Tuesday is generally conceded. There may be sixty progressives in the next house and there may be more.

Many Republican leaders are inclined to the belief that if Tuesday's election retains the party in control Mr. Cannon will at once cause it to be made known that he will not stand for another term as speaker. If he should fail to make such an announcement organization would at once be perfected against him.

Merely as a basis of estimating the strength of the forces for and against Mr. Cannon it is figured that the Republicans have a possible chance of electing a few more than 250 members. Of course, even in event of a victory, the figures would not go as high as indicated. But for purposes of figuring on a Republican speaker every district is listed as Republican where there is any chance at all for the party. Of the more than 250 Mr. Cannon is given 138 votes. About 100 candidates are classified as opposed to him. Fifteen or sixteen are listed as "doubtful."

There is certain to be a lively fight over the speakership in the new house, which will be organized in December, 1911.

Checking Cholera in Italy.

Rome, Nov. 7.—The sanitary measures undertaken by the government to prevent the spread of the cholera are proving effective. The disease has been checked and the number of new cases reported daily is small. During the last twenty-four hours only six new cases have developed in the infected districts, with two deaths.

Blamed for Accidents That Snuff Out

Massive Timbers Half a Mile
Through the Air.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 7.—Two explosions, occurring within a few minutes of each other, resulted in the death of twelve men in the Lawson mine at Black Diamond, thirty miles south-east of Seattle.

Seven men going down on shift and five men coming up were caught between the first and sixth levels and all perished.

Natural gas combustion is assigned as the cause. All the men were foreigners.

The force of the explosion was terrific, showers of earth, timbers and bits of clothing being blown from the slope of the mine. Timbers sixteen inches thick and eight feet long were blown half a mile. A big section of steampipe was blown a similar distance and sank fifteen feet into the ground.

As soon as the extent of the disaster was known rescue parties went into the mine in search of any who might be alive.

As far as known the twelve men in the tramcars were the only ones in the mine at the time of the explosion.

FATALLY WOUNDS A WOMAN

Oregon Man Then Ends His Own Life.

Merrill, Wis., Nov. 7.—Hibbard Vacherau of Portland, Ore., in a fit of jealousy shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Al. Quick of this city, one bullet striking her in the head and the other in the hand. He then turned his revolver on Policeman Walter Kerslake, who was accompanying her for the purpose of requesting Vacherau to leave the city, taking three shots at him, but missing his mark.

Kerslake returned the fire and with but one shot left Vacherau turned the weapon on himself, blowing out his brains, death being instantaneous.

About a week ago Mrs. Quick received a letter from a relative of Vacherau at Portland, saying he had left for Merrill and had made the threat before he left that he would bring her back with him or kill both her and himself. Since his arrival in the city Friday he had called upon Mrs. Quick and she requested an officer to accompany her to assist her in her efforts to have Vacherau to leave town.

After some conversation Vacherau asked what he should do and was advised by Mrs. Quick to leave town. Vacherau stating that it was hard to part, to which Mrs. Quick replied, "Yes, but it may as well come one time as another," whereupon he drew a revolver and fired the shot at such close range that it set fire to Mrs. Quick's hat. Mrs. Quick was removed to the Raven hospital, where it is stated that her recovery is doubtful.

South Dakota Educators Close Their Session.

Huron, S. D., Nov. 7.—The South Dakota Educational association closed its session here after deciding to hold the next session at Pierre in 1911.

The report of the legislative committee, formulating an educational code for South Dakota, with a few changes, was recommended for adoption.

A series of resolutions were adopted, congratulating H. A. Ustrud for the manner in which he has conducted the office of superintendent of public instruction, in the last four years; commending the work done by the legislative committee in formulating the new educational code; declaring that the most important and pressing educational demand of the day is the improvement of the rural schools; recommending the enlargement of district units; urging that high school courses should be strengthened and kept close to the people and independent of colleges; demanding the complete elimination of political influences from schools of every grade; declaring that never in the history of the world has the moral standard been so great as at present time; believing that young men and young women entering active life face temptations greater and more dangerous than ever before in the history of the world, and demanding a thorough and complete ethical and moral training.

Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 7.—After a week of continuous traveling, in which he covered more than 3,000 miles and made speeches in New York, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, Theodore Roosevelt returned to his home in Oyster Bay for a brief rest before plunging into politics again.

SUIT AGAINST ROOSEVELT

Will Be Brought by Simeon E.
Baldwin.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, Democratic nominee for governor, has announced that he will bring suit against former President Roosevelt on account of certain statements reported to have been made by Mr. Roosevelt in a speech in New Hampshire relative to Judge Baldwin's attitude on labor legislation. In a speech in Concord, N. H., Oct. 22, former President Roosevelt in discussing the workmen's compensation measures, was reported as saying:

"The Democratic party of Connecticut has nominated for governor a man who, while judge, occupied the most retrogressive position possible on this question of workmen's compensation—a man who took the view that it was competent for workmen, when driven to accept any employment, to bind himself not to be compensated for the loss of life and limb in that occupation."

When this statement was called to Judge Baldwin's attention he denied that he had ever occupied such position and sent a letter to Colonel Roosevelt making such denial and asking for a retraction of the statement. Mr. Baldwin said he had asked Colonel Roosevelt to retract the statement and that the latter had failed to do so.

The statement referred to was reported to have been made in a speech at Concord, N. H., by Mr. Roosevelt and was to the effect that the position taken by Judge Baldwin on the employers' liability question was retrogressive.

EIGHT PEOPLE ARE KILLED IN WRECKFour Others Badly Injured
Near Chatteroy, Wash.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 7.—Eight are known to be dead and four injured as a result of a freight wreck on the Great Northern railroad near Chatteroy, Wash.

The wreck was the result of a head on collision on a sharp curve between two heavily loaded trains running at high speed.

Nineteen cars caught fire and three trainmen were burned to death. The dead are members of the Great Northern train crews and three tramps.

Traffic on the main line of the Great Northern was blocked for hours.

Stranger in Dickinson Sent to Jail for Bootlegging.

Dickinson, N. D., Nov. 7.—E. N. Agnew pleaded guilty to blind pigging and was fined $350 by Judge W. C. Crawford and sentenced to serve ninety days in jail.

The man has been operating in Stark county since June and claims to have come from Canada. When arrested he had forty pints of whisky in a valise, which he was peddling out at $1 a bottle.

He came into the city from the west and set his valise in the depot and commenced operations at once. A Northern Pacific detective was on his trail and succeeded in buying a pint, as did two other men, and the arrest followed.

At first Agnew was going to fight the case and employed an attorney, but when he saw the army of witnesses which the prosecuting attorney had in waiting he wilted. The railroad company is determined to put a stop to bootlegging on its right of way.

Resists Arrest and Is Shot.

Red Wing, Minn., Nov. 7.—While resisting arrest after he had been thrown off a Pioneer limited sleeper, where he had hidden himself, M. Burkley was shot in the leg by Detective Tebbe of the police department in attempting to run away.

APPEAR TO BE AGAINST THEMAMERICAN CITIES SPEND
FORTUNES IN ADVERTISING.Every Section of Nation Represented
In Self Boosting Movement.

Spokane, Wash., laid out more than $100,000 last year holding herself up to the public gaze. Memphis expects to spend $25,000 this year for the same purpose and St. Paul $18,000. Chicago, with a booster club of 3,000 hustlers, pays an advertising manager a salary of $10,000 a year and does not consider that she really needs much boosting either.

The advertising bills of the city of New York during the last six years aggregated a trifle under $5,000,000. Denver, Des Moines, Detroit, Kansas City, Mo.; St. Louis, Toledo, Minneapolis, Montgomery, Ala.; Buffalo, Oklahoma City, Topeka and Wichita, Kan.; Indianapolis, New Orleans, Rochester, Cleveland—one might fill a page with a list of the cities that are boosting and booming themselves systematically and resolutely and laying out their good hard coin to do it.

The Greater Georgia association, with a membership of nearly 20,000, is at work raising $200,000 to be used in exploiting the state and expects to establish permanent advertising headquarters in many cities throughout the country.

Mississippi is getting busy with a somewhat similar plan. Eighty Nebraska newspapers have pledged themselves to methodically exploit their commonwealth and to raise $25,000 within the coming year with which to do the work. The Northern Pacific Railroad company has just put a force of thirty writers and publicity men to work on a campaign of advertising for Oregon.

HICKORY SUPPLY GOING.

Valuable American Wood Rapidly Becoming Extinct.

The supply of hickory, the best American fuel wood and the most difficult to replace in case of a shortage of American hard woods, is approaching exhaustion, says a bulletin of the department of agriculture.

It shows that virgin hickory, the chief source of supply, is disappearing rapidly and that there are no foreign sources which can be drawn upon when the home supplies are exhausted. Prices, it is pointed out, are bound to advance because of the high technical value of hickory and the fast diminishing supply.

The bulletin says that hickory has a number of important special uses for which no satisfactory substitute is known, that fully 40 per cent of the merchantable hickory cut each year is wasted, that the total amount of hickory consumed annually is probably not less than 450,000,000 feet, that the vehicle industry takes about 65 per cent of the total cut, that there are now about 100,000,000 acres of land on which hickory is growing naturally and that hickory users should co-operate to prevent shortage.

Odds Are That Democrats Will Not Gain Senate.

MANY CHANGES WILL OCCUR

Twenty-four of the Thirty Expiring
Senatorships are Held by Republicans, a Circumstance Which is Held to Be Propitious for the Democrats—Several Senators Will Not Be Returned.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Great as are the odds against such a contingency a general political landslide Tuesday might result in a Democratic senate as well as a Democratic house. Of the ninety-two senators there are thirty whose terms will expire March 4 and in a majority of the states legislatures will be chosen at the approaching election which will fill these seats.

Of the thirty expiring senatorships twenty-four are held by Republicans, a circumstance unusually propitious for the Democrats, as it gives them proportionately more opportunities for gain. The Republican senators whose terms will expire are: Aldrich of Rhode Island, Beveridge of Indiana, Bulkeley of Connecticut, Burkett of Nebraska, Burrows of Michigan, Carter of Montana, Clapp of Minnesota, Clark of Wyoming, Depew of New York, Dick of Ohio, Dupont of Delaware, Flint of California, Hale of Maine, Kean of New Jersey, La Follette of Wisconsin, Lodge of Massachusetts, Mcumber of North Dakota, Nixon of Nevada, Oliver of Pennsylvania, Page of Vermont, Piles of Washington, Scott of West Virginia, Sutherland of Utah and Warner of Missouri.

The Democrats are making vigorous fights for many of these places, but the Republicans are so strongly entrenched that nothing less than a revolution could insure success in a sufficient number of cases to insure Democratic control in the upper house. The Republican majority is now twenty-four and in order to attain such control it would be necessary for the Democrats to gain fourteen of the twenty-four Republican seats and in addition hold all of the six seats now occupied by Democrats.

The Democratic senators who either must retire or be rechosen between now and March 4 are: Culberson of Texas, Frazier of Tennessee, Money of Mississippi, Rayner of Maryland, Swanson of Virginia and Tallaferro of Florida.

Will Be Vastly Changed.

Even though the Democrats do not gain control, the senate of the next congress will be a vastly changed body. In addition to Senator Daniel, Senators Dolliver of Iowa and McNary of Louisiana have died since the adjournment of congress last June and their places probably will be filled during the coming session. No selection has been made in Iowa. Action has been taken in Louisiana, but complications are expected to arise in connection with the vacancy from that state. After himself receiving an election to the vacancy caused by Mr. McNary's death, Governor Saunders declined the office and sought to fill it by the appointment of Mr. Thorne. The circumstances under which the appointment was made have given rise to doubts as to its validity and the vacancy may continue until the legislature can act.

Of the Republicans whose terms will expire in March it is known that several will not come back. Among them are Aldrich, Hale, Flint, Piles and Warner, all of whom have refused to stand for re-election, and Senator Burrows, who was defeated in the Michigan senatorial primaries.

Among the Democrats, Senator Money's face will be missed. His successor in the person of John Sharp Williams, former Democratic house leader, was chosen by the Mississippi legislature three or four years ago when Mr. Money refused to be a candidate to succeed himself.

Senator Tallaferro occupies an anomalous position. Defeated at the primary polls for renomination by Governor Broward, another chance has been opened to him by the death of Mr. Broward before the legislature could meet to ratify the action of the primaries. If Senator Taylor should be elected governor of Tennessee another complication would arise.

Senator Page of Vermont is the one senator of the entire thirty whose terms expire in March who already has received a re-election.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 7.—United States Senator W. O. Bradley is a patient at a local hospital and, while his condition is not regarded as critical, he is unable to travel for several days. The senator suffered an attack of acute indigestion.

"All eyes on Brainerd," don't forget the slogan.

The hopes of the democrats for electing their candidate for governor seems to have faded away.

Many a man's hopes will be crushed by defeat tomorrow, for the world is full of cruel men who will persist in voting for the other fellow.

It is just a question of how large a majority Gov. Eberhart will receive, now. And there are those confident enough to think it will lurk around the 50,000 or 60,000 mark.

At Hallock 20 farmers have formed a "meat club" and on Friday of each week a beef critter is killed and cut into 20 pieces, each piece being numbered, and the members of the club take a different cut each week so at the end of 20 weeks each farmer has had a whole beef. It is a plan that gives them fresh meat summer and winter.

The meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association in this city on Dec. 1 and 2 is going to bring one of the largest bodies of representative citizens together that has ever met in Northern Minnesota, and already the people in various sections of the state are making preparations to send representatives. Brainerd is today the best advertised city in the state and the coming meeting will give us an additional boost.

Stimson's defeat for governor of New York will be considered a victory by the enemies of Theodore Roosevelt, who has put up the best fight of his life for his friend, and indications seem to point to the election of Dix, the democratic candidate. If the result tomorrow shows that Stimson has been defeated it will be because the party men considered the advent of Roosevelt into the game to mean that they will be shorn of their influence with the success of his candidate. There are some surprises due by the result of tomorrow's elections throughout the country.

Dan Lawler refers to James Gray as "the gold brick that was banded the democratic party." Democratic harmony with a county option candidate for governor, a candidate for secretary of state in the person of Fred W. Johnson speaking against county option and leading men of the party like Lawler out openly opposing Gray's election gives one the impression that the clear sailing the kitchen cabinet has had for some years is a thing of the past. Even the desperate effort of the democratic office holders under a republican governor seems to be having a boomerang effect. Tomorrow will put the seal of disapproval of the people of Minnesota on the democratic program.

The federal officers still seem to be busy in the Cass Lake district, and have caused the arrest of three saloon keepers, this time on the charge of selling liquor to a minor. They sent a lad 16 years of age from Bemidji to Cass Lake and on his return with a number of bottles of whiskey action was taken. The Bemidji Pioneer in commenting on the matter says the boy's reputation is none too good, but his evidence is conclusive. The Cass Lake liquor dealers who put up such a strenuous fight against the government agents have now made up their minds that the liquor laws on the statute books will have to be obeyed to the letter if they are to be permitted peace and quietness.

The election of the two republican house members from this district seems assured. The record of L. D. Brown, who is one of the present members and a candidate for re-election, has been satisfactory to his constituents, and there is no reason why he should not receive the same vote that he did two years ago at which time he was elected by a good majority. C. W. Bouck, the new man on the ticket, is considered a winner without question, his phenomenal run at the primaries showing his popularity and his vote getting qualities. His reputation at home for fair dealing is a good recommendation and he will undoubtedly make a valuable member of the lower branch of the legislature.

All repairs have been made to the electric light plant at the Northern Pacific railway shops and Brainerd may breathe easy again on the light question.

Twenty hunters, all intent on getting all the deer the law allows, passed through Brainerd this afternoon from the twin cities to points north along the M. & I.

Mrs. N. B. Chase returned to Duluth today after an over Sunday visit in Brainerd. Mr. and Mrs. Chase expect to return to Brainerd after Thanksgiving for the winter.

Gust. Raymond, of Atkin, the iron ore expert, came from Little Falls today. He talks county option too, for he is the dry candidate for the legislature from the Aitkin district.

Rev. G. Peterson, of the Swedish Methodist church will entertain the Ladies Aid society November 10th at the church parlors in the evening. Everybody is invited. A small charge will be made for the lunch.

Dr. Edward Carty Boxwell, of St. Paul, arrived today to join his friend, Rev. Charles Fox Davis, in a hunt for deer and moose. If the doctor kills a deer he will have a hunting story which will be impressed on all his numerous friends.

Helmer Walstrom, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walstrom, 1413 Ninth street, Northeast, died on November 6th of appendicitis. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon from the Swedish Methodist church, the Rev. Peterson officiating.

T. Lloyd Truss is the new assistant manager of the popular Grand theatre and his many friends are assured he will make a success in his new position. Mr. Truss may be seen at the theatre every afternoon at four o'clock and will be glad to teach and train aspirants for dramatic honors who may wish to take part in the amateur performances on Friday night.

Mrs. Mary C. Carlisle, the mother of A. H. Carlisle, editor of the Deerwood Enterprise died on November 4th and was buried at LaPort. Mrs. Robert Loomis, Mrs. James Slaughter and Miss Irene Slaughter attended the funeral and passed through Brainerd today on their way home to Minneapolis. A. H. Carlisle returned to his home in Deerwood this afternoon.

Theodore Reimstad, a brother of Dr. C. S. Reimstad, surprised him yesterday by an unexpected visit. Mr. Reimstad and Mr. Karstead, of Minneapolis, are on a concert tour through western cities. Sunday evening Theodore Reimstad was invited to attend the Bethlehem Norwegian Lutheran church and at the request of the pastor, Rev. M. L. Hostager, sang several tenor solos. He has a fine tenor voice, vibrating with tenderness and pathos. Today he is meeting old friends in the city before continuing on his journey.

The Superior Telegram of Superior, Wis., the Duluth News-Tribune, the St. Paul Dispatch, Pioneer Press and Daily News, the Minneapolis Journal and the Fargo Forum, of Fargo, N. D., contain references to the candidacy of Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, as county superintendent of schools. She is praised as being a teacher, a business woman and as president of the Ladies Musical club. Additional attention is paid to her because she is the first woman candidate for this office for many years. As the sister of Dr. J. L. Camp she is widely known throughout Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. White, of Fargo, N. D., who have just returned from a trip around the world, were honor guests at an informal tea given by Mr. White's sister, Mrs. H. H. Barber, of Irving avenue, last Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. White are now on their way to their home in Fargo, but will return to Minneapolis for Thanksgiving, when Mrs. Barber will give a family dinner. Another guest will be Mrs. A. A. White, who arrived at the Waldorf-Astoria last week and who has been spending the summer with her daughter, Miss Cecil White in Rome.

Mrs. L. P. White of Brainerd, mother of Mrs. Barber, will also be a guest at the dinner.—Minneapolis Journal.

BEST WAY TO BREAK A COLD

The Most Severe Cold and Grippe Misery Will be Relieved in Just a Few Hours

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all the gripe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the gripe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take the harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

MOISANT HERO OF THE MEET

Took First Prize in Flying About the Statue of Liberty, Second Prize in the Gordon Bennett Cup Race and Was the Hero of the Recent Record Flight From Paris to London.

One of the most remarkable flights of the Belmont park aviation meet was that around the statue of Liberty. While this covered a distance of but thirty-six miles, most of the way lay over the city of Brooklyn and New York bay and was therefore fraught with constant danger.

John B. Moissant of Chicago, the American who won this remarkable race, is the man who flew from Paris to London several weeks ago. On that trip he carried a passenger. He made a clean journey across the channel, but was delayed several times by accidents and breakdowns before reaching London. With true Yankee pluck, he persevered, however, until he won.

Moissant won for America the sentimental honor of finishing second in the Gordon Bennett cup race and was crowned by Claude Grahame-White, the cup winner in that event, the $10,000 prize for the fastest flight from Belmont park race track, New York, around the statue of Liberty and back to the park.

Until Moissant undertook the flight, many minutes after the Englishman had completed the task, it seemed that the second highest honor in the meet must go to England.

Moissant's time for the trip, which is estimated at about thirty-six miles, was 34 minutes 38 4-5 seconds, forty-two and a half seconds faster than the speed made by Grahame-White.

Grahame-White demanded as soon as he learned that Moissant had bettered his figures for the trip that he be permitted to fly again, basing his demand on the fact that it had been announced on Saturday that attempts to fly around the statue might be made on Sunday or Monday. Moissant immediately entered a protest, declaring that he had never heard of a race that could be run more than once by the same contestant.

Later the aviation committee, which had been considering the matter, announced that it had decided to sustain Moissant's protest on the ground that the meet officially closed on Sunday and that flights of Monday, therefore, could consist only of the deferred flights of Sunday and whatever special events the committee might be able to arrange.

Boa Constrictor Better Remedy Than Medicine For Illnesses.

Believing she would die unless snakes were in her home, Mrs. Ada Packard of Kewanee, Ill., received from New York a boa constrictor eleven feet long, to be used as a pet. Mrs. Packard, who claims to have a mysterious influence over reptiles, has from childhood had a fondness for serpents, and when she failed to rally from a recent surgical operation she became convinced she would improve if she could only get a snake as a pet.

A poisonous copperhead was obtained, and her health immediately was benefited. The snake became chilled, however, and died, since which time Mrs. Packard has not been so well. Her husband objected strenuously to the coming of the serpent; but, believing it was a case of life or death with his wife, he consented to the order for another.

Had it not been for an intelligent elephant the disaster to the Indian pilgrims in the Ganges, near Sonori, would have been considerably more serious.

While thousands of pilgrims were bathing the river suddenly rose, and 200 of the pilgrims were drowned.

An elephant which belonged to a certain Jung Bahadur saved, it is said, at least a thousand lives. With ropes attached to its trappings it repeatedly swam out to the distressed pilgrims, who clung to the ropes and thus landed safely.

SEASON'S FIRST HUNTING FATALITY

George Thompson and Joe Myers Perish in Whitefish Narrows Near Jenkins

PROBABLY OCCURRED SATURDAY

The Two Drove Their Team Through the Narrow and Upset, Drowning All

George Thompson, unmarried, aged 19 and Joe Myers, single, aged 29 were drowned Saturday afternoon while driving their wagon across the narrows of Whitefish lake, situated about four miles north and six miles east of Jenkins and about 40 miles north of Brainerd. Thompson lived about five miles east of Brainerd, near the Gibb school house and Myers lived in Brainerd with his parents. He had a claim near Whitefish lake.

The hunting party consisting of Bert and Duncan Thompson, brothers lived near Brainerd with his parents and Frank Taylor left Brainerd by train on Saturday. The two who drowned took a team and heavy wagon and drove up with the camp supplies, cooking utensils and tent.

No one saw the accident but it is presumed that they drove through the treacherous narrows of the lake to save a 10 mile detour of the country. It was very windy that day and it is supposed they lost their bearing, struck deep water and drowned, horses and all.

George Thompson was for many years a foreman of the Fisher-Vaughn Co., of Brainerd, and had charge last summer of all the cement contracts at Pine River. The bodies will be brought to Brainerd tonight.

Robert Thompson came down from Jenkins this morning. He was the first one to find the evidence of the tragedy when he saw a tent floating in the lake. He rowed down White Fish lake on Sunday morning and passing the water soaked tent continued to the narrows where he discovered the wagon, one horse under water and one still standing in his harness. They were tangled up and the standing horse was presumably chilled to death. As near as he can estimate he thinks the tragedy occurred on Saturday morning and that his brother George and Joe Myers were drowned before the balance of the party left Brainerd on the early Sunday morning train.

He spent good help and fifty or more men soon Sunday grappling for the bodies. Both were found in 14 feet of water, Thompson 20 feet from the bar and Myers near it. Thompson's body was found first. Myers had never been near this fording place at low water and it is thought they made a mistake in the route to take and drove into deep water. The way the team was tangled up showed their first thought was to swing to low water first and save their horses. Both were thrown out of the wagon. Myers tried to save Thompson, but being weighted down with heavy clothes and chilled by the water, both perished. The pole of the wagon is presumed to have struck Thompson as blood was oozing from his ears. The last seen of them was when they stopped at Thomas' place about noon for lunch.

The bodies were recovered at about three o'clock Sunday afternoon and were removed to the church at Jenkins. This afternoon D. E. Whitney of Losey & Dean and the coroner, T. W. Gibson, went to Jenkins and it is presumed the bodies will be brought to Brainerd tonight. Geo. Thompson has a father and brother residing in the country near the poor farm.

Anderson-Anderson

Charles Gottfried Anderson and Miss Esther Belle Anderson were married on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnston, the Rev. W. J. Lowrie, of the First Presbyterian church officiating. There were present the parents of the bride and immediate relatives. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Anderson, who reside on a farm at White Sand lake near the town of Baxter. The groom is employed in a grocery store at Bessemer, Mich. The happy couple left today for their new home in Michigan and will go to housekeeping at once in Bessemer. The best wishes of their many friends accompany them.

"PRAYER-GOD'S PART AND MAN'S PART

A Synopsis of the Sermon Rev. W. J. Lowrie Delivered Last Night

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The First of a Series of Sermons to be Contributed by Ministers of the City

At the Presbyterian church last evening the pastor W. J. Lowrie, preached on "Prayer," using for his text the words, "Ask and it Shall be Given you; Seek and ye shall find; Knock and it Shall be Opened."

Twice in the sermon on the Mount Jesus speaks about prayer. The first time he tells us how to approach God most reverently, the second how we may obtain. The first tells of the promised answer to prayer, the second why God respects prayer.

Man's part in prayer is summed up in the three words, asking, seeking, knocking. Asking denotes patience. These three elements must enter into every acceptable petition, addressed to the throne of Grace. These three ideas are the open sesame of the gates of God. They are the three requisites to imaterial as well as spiritual favor.

Jesus is represented as asking, as seeking and knocking. He said to wandering men, "Come unto me." "He came to seek and save," and among the touching pictures in His dramatic life is the representation of him standing at the door knocking. He is not a vain intruder but a courteous visitor waiting till the door be opened. What Christ has done we have the right to do. It is our privilege to seek from God in prayer the best things, to knock at the door of hope, and to ask for the richest blessings.

Man's part is to ask, to seek with determination and to wait with patience for the sought blessings. God's part is to hear and heed, to answer in the way He knows best. He must determine in His wisdom what is best to give us. Were there no check to our ambitions we would ask the most unfitting things. The Apostles James and John asked for places one on the right hand, the other on the left of the son of God. It was an unreasonable demand and was denied them. Paul asked for relief from his bodily afflictions and while he was refused the specific form of his request he was given the assurance that God's grace was sufficient for him, that Christ's strength was made perfect in weakness. Christ himself prayed that the cup of suffering might pass from him. he was denied the definite form of his supplication and received the blessing of prayer in another manner that of angels coming and ministering unto him.

Man's part is therefore to ask, God's is to answer in the way that is best. Not in the way we think is best but in the way he knows is best. Thus every prayer is heard and granted not in the definite way we expect often times, but in a far better way.

God does his part because He is our father. No earthly parent would consciously rebuff his child when that child comes appealingly, anxiously and earnest so the God who is in heaven hears and heeds his children's cry.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Next Saturday at the McKay grounds, the game in which victory is most eagerly desired by the high school football team will be played with the Little Falls high. The contest this year is of a great interest for many reasons, mainly because Brainerd defeated Little Falls last year, and the lads from down river are coming for revenge.

The Little Falls team has a better record this year than the locals, having defeated the Normal team who in turn defeated Brainerd. But the locals will endeavor to regain their lost laurels next Saturday and will put in some hard practice this week.

Song Recital

Prof. Reimestad and Cranston, assisted by local talent, will give one of their celebrated concerts tonight at the 7th street Lutheran church at 8 o'clock sharp. These gentlemen have appeared in concert recitals in Germany, Scandinavian countries, England and America and have received the highest testimonials. All lovers of fine music should attend. Admission 25 cents and 15 cents.

LIBRARY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

HEATING PLANT NEEDS REPAIRS

Bills of $105 Allowed—Librarian Lillia M. Follett Reads Her September Report

The library board held its regular meeting on October 31st. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The library committee asked for and was given permission to prepare a list of 200 books to be purchased, such list to be first passed on by the board.

The building committee reported having purchased ten tons of hard coal and were given permission to employ an expert to examine the heating plant which has been out of order for some time. The report of the expert will determine what is necessary to put the heating plant in good running order.

After examining the insurance policies now carried by the board, it was decided that one thousand dollars be cancelled on the building and put on the contents instead.

Bills to the amount of $105 were allowed and ordered paid.

The librarian, Lillia M. Follett, read her report or monthly summary for the month of September, as follows:

13th ST. ROAD ITEMS

The peat bog on the Gruenhagen farm which caught fire a month ago is still smoking. It will probably not be extinguished until snow comes.

Robert Wohlfater went to Duluth last week on a business trip.

The road is now ditched on both sides from the city limits to the vicinity of Stedfeld's. Contractor Velette is doing a good job.

Ed. Dechaine and his mother, Mrs. Louise Dechaine, and Norbert Lafond visited Mr. and Mrs. William Gildart on Sunday.

George Eschenbacher has bought the John Keppel farm, paying, it is said, $3,000 for the place. Mr. Keppel will remain on the farm until spring.

Mrs. Molly Smith, of Wisconsin, is visiting her brother-in-law, Peter Wohlfater.

John Vanasse is building a storm entrance for the school house.

Mrs. John Vanasse is sick at the Northwestern Hospital where she is soon to be operated on for appendicitis.

Five pupils recently killed a skunk at recess and when school was again in session the ventilating apparatus, like our Brainerd light, plant, was unable to carry the load and school was dismissed until the odor had been dissipated.

Those Corporation Taxes

In regard to the taxes of certain companies, the law provides that all corporations of the state have the right to list their personal property at their principal place of business, no matter where the property may be, and all companies not incorporated, as well as individuals, list their personal property where they do business or where they live. So, the Cross Lake company and the Boom company pay taxes on their personal property in Hennepin county. If they have any real estate in this county they pay taxes on the same here in Crow Wing county, of course. I find that the Brainerd Dam, under the name of the Northern Water Power company, has paid over twelve hundred dollars each year for several years on its property here in Crow Wing county, and this on an assessment passed upon by the state board of equalization. I will say that I have always believed that personal property should be taxed where the same is located, and when I was in the legislature in 1893, I introduced a bill for this very purpose. It passed the house but was killed in the senate.

W. A. FLEMING.

Notice

To the Voters of Crow Wing County: I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for coroner, and respectfully solicit the support of all voters at the general election Nov. 8th.

Respectfully,
C. A. NELSON.

NORTHERN PACIFIC EARNINGS

Show Decrease for First Three Months of Fiscal Year, But Are Considered Satisfactory

"Passenger earnings of the Northern Pacific show a big decrease for the first three months of the fiscal year.

"The heavy travel of last year was due to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and the numerous land openings. In comparison this year's showing is excellent.

"The passenger revenue amounted to $5,541,121.39 this year as against $7,925,231.62 last year, a decrease of but $2,000,000. The freight revenue is slightly in excess of last year, being over $12,000,000.

"The road began cutting operating expense this year."

VISIT NORWAY

Mrs. Hannah A. Olson and Son, Goodwin Benjamin Olsen Return From Foreign Trip

Mrs. Hannah A. Olsen, her son, Goodwin Benjamin Olsen and Miss Martha Kalgaarden have returned from their trip to Norway and Mr. Olsen gave some of the impressions of Norway and their ocean voyage. They left Minneapolis on June 5th, arriving in Chicago the next day and then proceeded to New York. They left New York on the Lusitania and in the course of their voyage passed several spouting whales. On board they became acquainted with Orde-man, the wrestler and his wife, who were on a wedding trip to Bergen, Norway. Liverpool, Eng., was reached on June 14th, and they stopped at the Goteborg hotel. The next day they came to Hull and then embarked for the North Sea voyage on the steamer Salmo. It was a small boat and the choppy waves caused much sea sickness.

June 17th Christiania, Norway, was reached and a hard time was had to find a restaurant for the restaurant and saloons resemble each other. A museum was visited which had on exhibition the sledges and trophies of Nansen's polar expedition. After a four day's visit in this city they left for Kongsvinger to see Mrs. Olsen's brother, Herr K. Holmen, the sheriff of that district. They intended to surprise him, but the news of their coming had preceded them. It was in this city that Ben celebrated his 21st birthday and punch of the old fashioned kind occupied a prominent place on the birthday dinner menu. Grue i Soel, the birthplace of Mrs. Hannah A. Olsen was visited. This was the season of the long days and many of the boys played horse shoe at midnight. A picture of the old home, now over 200 years old, was taken. Their next visit was at Sandefjoerd, where Mr. Olsen's uncle is the foreman of a large machine shop where vessels are built and repaired.

Aarnaes, the old home of his father, was visited as well as numerous relatives in Pleason, Arnebaer and Hoff. They returned home on the steamer "Eskimo" crossing the North Sea in a heavy fog with the sirens blowing every minute. It was a stormy passage. Hull was reached and later Liverpool on October first. They took passage on the "Mauretania" for the voyage across the Atlantic. The port of Queenstown, Ireland, came into view on October second. On that day a fierce storm swept over the decks and everybody was sea sick. Benjamin slept near the upper deck three nights in order to be near the railing of the ship while giving his tribute to father Neptune. Three passengers died on the voyage. The storm was so bad that experienced sea men took sick and were the joke of their more hardy brothers.

On October 7th the goddess of liberty was seen beckoning from New York harbor. They returned home by way of Niagara Falls going through southern Canada, across the Detroit river on a train ferry and thence to Chicago and back to Minneapolis and Brainerd.

DEDICATED METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. N. S. Lowrie, Father of Rev. W. J. Lowrie, Dedicated Cuyuna Church

Rev. N. S. Lowrie, of Lincoln, Neb., the father of Rev. W. J. Lowrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, returned to Brainerd this noon from Cuyuna where he preached the dedicatory sermon at the services in the First Presbyterian church recently erected.

The church is in a most prosperous condition, having a membership of over 100. The church was crowded at the services and Rev. Samuel F. Sharples and those who assisted him are to be congratulated on the interest they have aroused in Cuyuna. The church building is of modern construction and has large parlors which will be used for the Sunday school rooms. The entire cost of the building is estimated to be $3,000.

The Last Call

On Silk Petticoats

Tuesday Morning at 9 o'clock

When we purchased the colored petticoats for our last sale, we tried to secure some black ones but failed to do so. The party of whom we inquired sent a number of black ones on just as soon as they were received. They were so good, so well made and knowing that our clientele would appreciate them we decided to have one more petticoat sale. This will be our last for the present at least. These will go on sale at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and you may consider yourself fortunate if you secure one.

Only one will be sold to a customer and none will be laid aside nor will telephone orders be filled.

Our special price for tomorrow is given on the window card and can be seen tonight in our window together with garments to be on sale.

MINISTERS WILL CONTRIBUTE

Dispatch Will Print Every Monday a Sermon Contributed by Some Minister of this City

Commencing Monday the Brainerd Dispatch will inaugurate a new departure by printing every Monday a sermon contributed by some minister of our city. Each Monday will see a new sermon. Every pastor in the city will be called upon to take his turn.

The suggestion was made Rev. W. J. Lowrie and also by Rev. Charles Fox Davis. As the first contributor next Monday's paper will have a short sermon by Rev. Lowrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Following this contributions will be asked for successive Mondays from Rev. Joseph R. Alten, of St. Paul's Episcopal church; Rev. M. L. Hostager, pastor of Bethlehem Norwegian Lutheran church; Rev. Charles Fox Davis, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church; Father O'Mahoney rector of St. Francis Catholic church; Rev. C. Hougstad, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church; Rev. W. J. Horner, pastor of the People's Congregational church; and others. No one will be slighted and the roster of ministers and churches in our city is long enough to enable us to have a new contributor every Monday for almost half a year.

Each sermon will receive the widest publicity, being published in the daily and weekly editions of the Dispatch. Each pastor will thus have as his congregation all the readers of this paper.

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "33" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "33" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

We assure you that if your hair is beginning to unnaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "33" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness.

Our faith in Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store.

This successful heating stove supplies the demand for a handsome, economical magazine hard coal stove with mica illumination, having the heating capacity of a large base burner which can be sold to you at a low price.

Cole's Radiant Heater

Heats evenly, top, bottom and sides. The steel bottom allows direct radiation of heat underneath the stove, and does away altogether with the base flues which fill with ash.

By keeping the ashes removed, it is possible to have a hot base at all times when fuel is burning. On account of the air-tight steel joints, fire and heat can be kept longer than with any cast iron stove.

The large ash pan will hold twenty-four hours accumulation of ash, and fits outside bottom of fire pot, allowing all ash to enter pan without using ash guides.

Price $22.00 to $38.00.

NO BID ON BONDS OF NEW ORLEANS

City Unable to Obtain Funds For Proposed Improvements.

MUCH DISAPPOINTMENT FELT

Municipal Betterments to Cost Seven Million Dollars Likely to Be Held Up Indefinitely—Looks as Though the Crescent City Was Hardly in a Position to Finance a World's Exposition.

New Orleans has no bidders for her $7,000,000 of sewerage bonds and water bonds and it looks as though her greatest project for municipal improvement would be held up indefinitely through lack of funds to prosecute the work. It would seem as though New Orleans was hardly in a position to finance a World's exposition, even with the aid of the state of Louisiana, when her local bankers refuse to purchase her bonds on their own terms.

The financial predicament of San Francisco's rival for exposition honors is told in the following press dispatch from the Crescent City:

"New Orleans, La.—Oct. 4.—Despite several months of negotiation through the Hibernal Bank and Trust company, and in spite of a special act of the last legislature to facilitate the financial negotiations, when the city board of liquidation met at noon today there was no bid for the $7,000,000 improvement bonds by which the great sewerage and water project of this city was to have been completed.

"Much disappointment is felt at the failure of the bonds to sell, as this great municipal project may be seriously delayed. Mayor Ehrman and City Attorney I. D. Moore both issued statements tonight explaining the reasons.

"About a year ago, the Interstate Bank and Trust company agreed to advance the $7,000,000 bond issue provided it was given the benefit of being the depository of the funds collected at 2 per cent interest. The contention was raised that no bond taker could not be the depository. Then a legislative enactment was secured to make it legal for the buyer to become the fiscal agent of the funds, but still the bonds are unsold."

A Wise Precaution.

Not long ago some men had occasion to organize a corporation and, desiring to avoid the cost of a lawyer's services, they drew up their own articles of agreement. Among the provisions was the following: "The annual meeting of the company shall be held on the second Saturday of July in each and every year, except when the same falls on a Sunday or a holiday."—Law Notes.

Indorse Schmolke

To Morrison and Crow Wing Tax payers and voters:

We saw in the paper that we have a man in our neighborhood running for the legislature in the 48th district. This is John Schmolke. He is a man who is fit for this office. We have known him for the last 27 years. He came to Buckman from Europe as a poor shoemaker boy. He went from one to the other farmer repairing shoes. He started the first store at Buckman. He is a man who made a market for everything at Buckman. He started a cattle market and paid cash for butter and eggs. We have as good a market at Buckman as they have in any city. A person can sell everything here. The farmers had a creamery at Pierz but couldn't agree as they couldn't make enough money out of it. J. Schmolke bought it and ran the creamery for twelve years. He lost money at the beginning but now farmers see that the creamery is a gold mine for this country. He paid over $40,000 for cream last year. He was the one that settled this part of the county having brought over 200 new settlers. He spent a lot of money every year to advertise this county. He worked for bridges and roads. He owns alone a few thousand acres of land, and is one of the heaviest taxpayer of Morrison county. If he gets into this office we know that it will be for his and our interest. Not like a few years ago when we had lawyers in the legislature who didn't have any property in Morrison county.

We didn't see them do us a cent worth of good. John Schmolke is a Democrat and a man of respect.

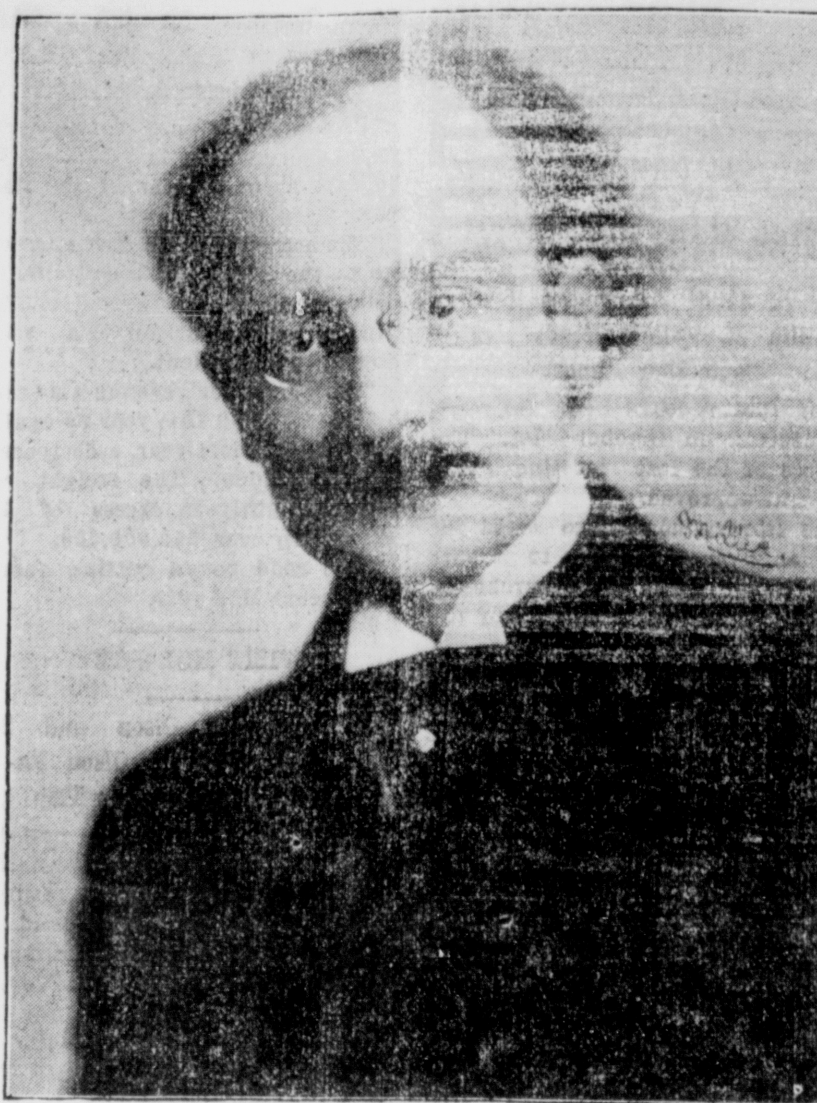

We the undersigners are not all democrats but also republicans—German, English, Norwegian and Polish—but we are all going to vote for J. Schmolke. We hope that all the people will vote for him.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN STOCKHOLM

Mme. Nichelsen, Wife of Norway's
Former Premier Dead—Infantile
Paralysis in Copenhagen.

SWEDEN.

Children's day in Stockholm this year proved to be a grand success in every particular. There were moving picture shows in many sections of the city; there were floral booths, where lots of money was taken in for the poor children's cause, and there were benefit performances at the theaters, where such stars as Rosa Gruenberg, Klercker, the tenor, and Berentz, Barkind and others participated. There was the children's parade, which was an imposing spectacle, when it is taken into consideration that there were not less than 10,000 of them in line. There were races at Idrotts park and everywhere money was being collected through some attraction or another for the good cause. The net receipts of the day amounted to over 75,000 crowns. In the evening there was a great display of fireworks and there was a benefit performance at every theater in the city. Business men evinced an unusual interest in the day and contributed large sums of money, some of them practically donating their day's sales to the good cause. The idea of making "Children's day" a permanent institution has struck a popular chord in Stockholm and it is safe to state that it will be celebrated in a very hearty manner every year for now on.

D. A. Sundén, author of the much dreaded Sundén's grammar, which has kept thousands of students on the anxious seat for years, is dead. D. A. Sundén attained an age of eighty-two years. He was born in Transtrand, Dalarna, where his father was a minister. He became an instructor in philosophy and the Swedish language in Vesterås, but resigned from this position in 1898. Most Swedes who have gone to school within the last thirty years have made the acquaintance of Sundén's grammar, which enjoys the distinction in Sweden of being the hardest textbook on the list for students to tackle. In 1855-52 Sundén compiled his dictionary of the Swedish language, which has been in much use all over the country ever since.

The Swedes use more than 50,000,000 crowns worth of shoes every year. But the peculiar part of it is that all the shoe factories put together do not manufacture more than about 26,000,000 crowns worth. The rest are imported from Germany. The shoe industry in Sweden has increased at a remarkable rate during the past ten years and there are still great opportunities open. The shoe factories are all loaded down with orders and cannot begin to fill half of them. A number of new factories have started recently in various parts of the country and within a short time Sweden will be manufacturing 30,000,000 crowns worth of shoes every year.

Sweden is using a great deal of American tobacco and the other day there arrived in the steamer Queen Olga a consignment of American tobacco which is valued at 1,700,000 crowns. It took 210 freight cars to transport the tobacco from Kentucky to New York. The American tobacco companies now have the best of the tobacco business in Sweden and are doing an enormous business.

Count Carl von Puckler, Germany's minister to Stockholm, has tendered his resignation and will retire from diplomatic life entirely and spend the remainder of his days in Germany. During the three years that he has occupied the Stockholm post he has made many friends and has been on an extremely sympathetic footing with the officials of the Swedish court.

The great church meeting which was held in Stockholm during the early part of the month was well attended and some of the country's leading clergymen were present and delivered addresses and participated in the discussions. Owing to the illness of the archbishop the great meeting was presided over by Bishop Billing.

On the afternoon of Oct. 9 a party of three persons in a sailboat attempted to cross Munparud bay, west of Carlscrona, and were drowned. Those who perished were Captain C. J. Johanson, about sixty years old; Madame Anna Svensson and the twelve-year-old son of Inspector Lindberg of Karlshamn.

Count E. A. Ehrensward, the newly appointed Swedish minister to Washington, will not assume charge of his duties at the American capital before New Year's. He is at present in Sweden, where he is attending to his business affairs prior to his departure for America.

The Swedish swimmer, Harald Julin, captured first prize at a swimming contest in Sunderland, Eng., and now holds the championship for fast swimming in that country. Julin also won first prize at a swimming contest in Berlin last summer.

NORWAY.

Madame Benny Michelsen, wife of Norway's famous ex-premier, is dead. She was a woman of rare attainment and came from an old patrician Bergenser family. She was popular in Stockholm, too, where she resided for about two years prior to the crisis of 1898. She was a very diplomatic woman and was perhaps one of the best informed women on politics in the country. Madame Michelsen took a deep interest in her husband's affairs and during the time that he was prime minister it is believed that Mr. Michelsen relied as much on his wife's advice as he did on that of his closest political advisers. At any rate there are some people who profess to believe that Madame Benny Michelsen had a great deal to do with the bringing about of a peaceable dissolution with Sweden in 1905. She also was the one who conducted the negotiations in Stockholm regarding the disposition of the much talked of "ministershotel" in Stockholm.

Rev. Peter Olsen resigned from his congregation in Lyngse the other day. At the same time he resigned from the ministry, all on the ground that he had been preaching to empty seats. Rev. Olsen became so disgusted with the indifference of his congregation that he decided to leave congregation, ministry and all. There is a religious indifference throughout Norway that is noteworthy and does not augur well for the future. The ministry is writing about the matter and discussing it at their meetings and many of them openly threaten to do the same as Rev. Olsen has done. The matter of church indifference is, according to reports, worse in Sweden.

Sweden and Denmark will be largely represented at the great Christiania fair, to be held in 1914. The two countries together will occupy a space of 5,200 quadrat meters each on the exposition grounds and have been accorded the privilege of making the first selection. Sweden will have an exceptionally large art exhibition and will also have a considerable industrial exhibit.

Norway is exporting large consignments of building stone and stone adapted for streets to the Argentine Republic. The other day the steamer Artemis departed from Christiania with a cargo of 7,500 tons of building stone for Buenos Ayres. Large quantities of Norwegian herring, lumber and berries are also sent to Argentina.

The Swedish aviator, Baron Cederstrom, made a successful flight with his aeroplane in Christiania Oct. 14, which was witnessed by thousands of people. He sailed around Hovedon and back again over Ekeberg. Weather permitting Baron Cederstrom will give another aerial exhibition during the latter part of this month.

The body of Johan Sverdrup has been removed to Our Savior's cemetery in Christiania, where a monument will be erected over his burial place. The removal of the body was conducted in the presence of two sons of the deceased.

Rev. F. M. Erickson has been appointed pastor of the Valerengen's church in Christiania and as he is a strong Socialist leader it is believed that he will be chosen as stirring representative from that district.

The Socialists in Christiania were defeated in the election Oct. 11. They elected one man and showed some gains in certain precincts.

DENMARK.

In Copenhagen at present there are a great many persons who are suffering from infantile paralysis. Several persons have died and there are as many as a hundred cases on record now. It seems that old as well as young persons are susceptible to the disease and physicians stand absolutely puzzled. They are not even certain that it is the so-called American disease known as infantile paralysis, but its symptoms have been so similar that the newspapers have given the disease this name.

Two railway employees, who received decorations of honor for saving the lives of some men who were about to be run over in a tunnel by a railway train some time ago, have been disowned as members of the Social-Democratic society on the ground that said society does not approve of any of its members carrying any decorations of honor for meritorious service or anything else. The two men in question, however, decided to leave the society and kept the decorations awarded them.

While conducting some excavations at Charlottenlund the other day some workmen came across skeletons, which, according to experts who have since examined them, date back to 1807. It is believed that the skeletons are those of Englishmen who were killed there in the aforementioned year.

Editor Heyman, who publishes the Middagen, was arrested the other day and sentenced to pay a fine of 1,000 crowns, or imprisonment for 100 days, for publishing a questionable story entitled "Snepperne."
